The Pastor Speaks

AMAZING GRACE

Eph. 2:8-9-10

"John Newton, once an infidel and libertine, a servant of slaves in Africa, was, by the rich mercy of our Lord and Saviour, Jesus Christ, perserved, restored and pardoned and appointed to preach the faith he had long labored to destroy" nearly 16 years at Olney in Bucks and --- years in this Church ---."

The above is the Epitath, written by his won hane of a man who has made more than a small contribution to the singing of happy Christians. His deeply religious Mother, at whose knee he learned many a Bible text passes away when he was only seven years old. After just two years of schooling he went to sea with his father, a shipper, and for 18 years sailed the Seven Seas.

Six of these horrible years were spent as a captain of a slave ship which landed some of its freight in Charleston, N. C. The young Newton grew into a wild and blasphemous sailor.

On a long voyage from Brazil the young sailor fell to reading Imitation of Christ by Thomas Kempis. Later during a vicious storm that threatened to send his ship to the bottom of the sea he began to think about Christ whom he had been reading in the book. He was soon converted and became a student of the Bible. He prepared as a sailor in 1748 but not one person in England would have guessed that Captain John Newton was leaving the sea to preach the Gospel. He studied 16 long years and was finally ordained and sent to by the pastor of a small church in Olney.

When he was 80 years old he was urged by his friends to give up his preaching because he was no lonrer able to read his text he replied, "What! Shall the old African blasphemer stop while he can still speak?" This was typical of his fighting spirit that characterized his life. In his last days Captain John Newton waited to the pulpit of one of England's greatest churches dressed as a sailor and preached the unsearchable riches of the Grace of God through Jesus Christ.

While still at the little church in Olney he gave the world a song that has blessed the hearts of Christains since that day.

"Amazing Grace how sweet the sound,
That saved a wretch like me,
I once was lost but now I'm found,
Was blind but now I see."

When you sing this song let your heart be reminded of the Grace that is shown toward men whose hearts were as vile as was John Newtons and our own.

"When we've been there ten thousand years
Bright shining as the sun.
We've no less days to sing God's praise
Then when we've first begun."

THE BIBLE SPEAKS

BY LAWRENCE W. ALTHOUSE

WHAT IS 'SECURITY'?

Lesson for June 25, 1972

Background Scripture: Psalms 57; 90:13-17; Isaiah 6:1-6; Romans 8:28-39.
Devotional Reading: Psalms 90: 13-17.

"All I want is security."

This was the answer given to me by a man whom I had asked, "What do you want out of life?" His answer was not surprising; many people today would say the same thing. They want security above all else.

The problem is: what is security?

A Place To Hide

For some people, security means a place to hide, shelter from the problems, concerns, and dangers that confront us in life. For them, Christianity often turns out to be a great disappointment, for they find that it does not hide them from these things. The epitome of this attitude is the man or woman lying in a hospital bed and protesting: "What did I ever do to deserve this?"

What they have overlooked along the way is the fact that Christianity never promises to give us a place to hide from life's storms. The truth is that Jesus himself did not finish his life in a snug little make-over, but on the cross.

When the psalmist cries: "... for in thee my soul takes refuge; in the shadow of thy wings I will take refuge, till the storms of destruction pass by" (57:1), we can be sympathetic. It is human to want to hide, but he is much closer to the facts of life when he says: "I lie in the midst of lions that greedily devour the sons of men ..." (57:4). God has not hidden him from dangers of life, but he has given him security in the midst of them, so that, surrounded by evil on all sides, the psalmist still manages to sing: "Be exalted, O God, above the heavens! Let thy glory be over all the earth" (57:5).

"In The Midst Of Lions"

This is the true security that God offers his children. The psalmist began with a pleading cry for escape, but he ends up extolling the goodness of God even while he is in the midst of great danger. I once heard a man say: "It will be a miracle if I come out of this all right and I'm frightened to death. How can I pray?" The answer he was given: "Don't concentrate on your problem, just praise God and thank him for his goodness."

What is security? It is not a gilt-edged guarantee from God that we will not have to face danger and testing along the way. It

New Serving Line For Pamplin

Gleaming stainless steel and the most modern type of luncheon serving equipment was recently installed at Pamplin Elementary School (above). The entire kitchen area has been changed for greater efficiency for cafeteria workers, Mrs. Elizabeth Covington (left) and Mrs. Bertha Dickerson (right). The sixth year students pictured are now enjoying vacation time, of course, but when school bells ring next year there will be hot lunches and cold milk waiting for them. (From left): Kevin Burley, Ricky Jennings, Ronnie Richardson, Connie Murray, Doretha Walker and Brenda Coleman. Their instructor this year has been Mrs. Bailey. The Pamplin School cafeteria is also used for civic groups and thus serves a dual purpose.

Memorial Funds Aid Eye Bank

RICHMOND – An increasing number of Eye Bank Memorial Funds are being established in honor and memory of deceased members of Virginia Lions Clubs, according to an announcement by L. Paul Byrne Board Chairman of Old Dominion Eye Bank.

Byrne said that, inasmuch as the Lions Clubs of Virginia support the eye bank's sight-restoring corneal transplant program and provide full financial backing for the eye-donation project, many individual Lions members have adopted the eye bank as their favorite charity. These individuals often are memorialized, after death, by the setting up of an eye bank fund in their names.

In one recent case, Byrnes said, a past President of a Lions Club died and, in his memory, his own club initiated a fund in his honor with a donation of one thousand dollars. This sum was augmented several times over, according to Byrnes, by additional donations to the fund from the family and friends of the deceased Lions member.

Byrnes added that those who initiate such a fund may stipulate whether the principal, or just the interest, may be used by the eye bank in its sight restoration and research work.
